

Eva Nilsson Bågenholm new Quality Assurance Director at Humana

03/12/2014 | Humana

Eva Nilsson Bågenholm, the government's national coordinator for elderly care since 2011, steps down from her role at the end of the year to take up the position of Quality Assurance Director at Humana in January 2015.

The addition of this newly created position is part of Humana's objective to be the leading care company in Sweden.

The position of Quality Assurance Director involves overall responsibility for systematic quality management and further development of working methods that affect perceived quality for all of Humana's customers and clients.

"Humana will set a new standard in terms of quality. With her experience and our already strong organisation, Eva will continue to develop quality assurance at Humana and boost the sector as a whole," says Per Granath, President and CEO of Humana.
